The number of registrations is not limited. It is possible to submit projects maximum in 3 categories and one additional category at the same time.

3. JUDGING

An independent expert jury will decide the competition winner. The jury is comprised of representatives from industry, academia, design, architecture and media. Projects should stand out with regard to the following aspects:

Ergonomics • functionality and operability • practical value • overall concept • design quality • degree of innovativeness • durability • brand value and branding • market maturity • sustainability • ecological quality • product aesthetics • product graphics and semantics • safety and accessibility • symbolic and emotional • content • technical quality • technical function • manufacturing techniques and quality

If a released project has not been delivered to the jury meeting within the specified period, the jury reserves the right to use the released project data from the registration at mdc.german-design-council.de (see section 4.1) for the valuation. A decision of the jury based on this information is also valid.

The jury is authorised to change the category of a project. If a prize is awarded as a result, it is also valid.

4. REGISTRATION, SUBMISSION AND INSURANCE OF PROJECTS

4.1 The German Design Council will send registrants a written invitation to take part in the competition. The email contains a personal password and login for each registrant and, in the case of a nomination, a project ID for each nominated project. All projects can be registered to the competition in the personal login area at <https://mdc.german-design-council.de>. Projects can be registered online following approval of the project details and after reading and confirming the General Terms and Conditions for the competition. Registration is binding and gives rise to the obligation to pay the associated fees and costs in full. The German Design Council will allow a registration to be cancelled free of charge if a written notice of cancellation is addressed to designpreis@german-design-council.de within 14 days of the date of registration (a failure to send or provide material to be judged as a contribution by the jury is not deemed a cancellation). After the expiry of the 14-day period, the participation fee specified in Section 6 is no longer refundable and the participant's right to withdraw expires."

The applicant is authorised to carry out the application process. The contract is concluded exclusively in digital form and is not exchanged in paper form.

In general, the German Design Council reserves the right, after internal examination, not to allow non-nominated projects to participate in the competition. The registrant of a non-nominated project will receive written notification of the outcome of the examination. In the event of negative notification, the legal contract between the registrant and the German Design Council will be cancelled. In this case, the registrant will not be charged the costs and fees for the registration.

With the registration of a nominated project, the registrant is entitled to acquire the nominee package for the fee listed in section 6 of these terms and conditions and to use it immediately. With the registration of a non-nominated project, the registrant is entitled to acquire the nominee package for the corresponding fees, but will only be granted access to the contents of the nominee package after the registered project has been reviewed and a positive notification has been received. The nominee package entitles the registrant to use the „Nominee 2020“ label in connection with the registered project for his corporate communications and to order further marketing services at a charge.

The registrant's details and those of the registered projects will be processed in accordance with the legislator's privacy regulations. The German Design Council assumes no liability for incorrect or erroneous information.

4.2 For the jury session, the registrant may submit original products, presentation charts, digital presentation or models from the projects for the competition. In exceptional case also large-size fotos and documentations are allowed. All projects and packaging must be marked with the provided project ID and these must be clearly visible on delivery. Loss and/or non-consideration of unmarked projects are at the registrant's own expense. The burden of proof for proper labelling lies with the registrant.

4.3 The costs and all risks of transport for the delivery and removal of the registered projects shall be borne exclusively by the registrant. The German Design Council undertakes to inform the registrant immediately of any visible transport damage upon receipt of the projects. For projects delivered from abroad, the registrant must clear all necessary customs procedures at their own expense. The German Design Council accepts no liability for destruction, theft and/or damage for the duration of the projects' submission period. All necessary insurance should be taken out before registering.

4.4 Projects must be delivered in packaging that can be reused for return shipment and is safe for transport. If this is not the case, the German Design Council accepts no liability for any damage caused during return transport.

4.5 The registrant must collect the project by the specified deadline. Whoever comes to collect the project must be able to identify themselves and specify the project ID for the project they wish to collect. Freight forwarders or courier services must present an order from the registrant with the project ID of the project to be

Projects that have not been collected by the registrant by the deadline specified in the registration documents will subsequently be stored for two weeks subject to a fee (40.00 EUR/project/day, plus any special costs for transport) and then disposed of at the registrant's expense (40.00 EUR/project plus any extra cost for disposal).

All deliveries by freight forwarders and / or delivery companies must be done at ground level. A loading ramp is not available. If a supplier can not unload a project independently and needs auxiliary material (forklifts, pallet trucks, etc.) for unloading, the client (participant) accepts any costs incurred as a result of the additional work involved. The costs will be charged to the participant after the jury session. Projects of the category Lighting must be functional for the jury session, have a Euro plug and be designed for use with 230V power. If work is required for the presentation of the jury session (e.g. plug replacement, current transformer, etc.), the participant accepts any costs that may arise. The costs will be charged to the participant after the jury session.

Upon request, size S projects can be sent to the registrant within the EU straight after the jury meeting; for this service, the German Design Council charges 80.00 EUR plus VAT (plus postage and packaging material) per project. At the registrant's request, the return shipment of size M, L or XL projects or the return to non-EU countries can be carried out by a forwarding agency commissioned by the German Design Council by way of an individual shipping offer with costs. Orders for individual delivery must reach the forwarding agent before the jury meeting. If no individual delivery is requested, the periods stated in the registration documents shall apply.

Following self-assembly, the registrant must take any packaging material with them. It is possible to store this temporarily at the Frankfurt Exhibition Centre until disassembly. A flat fee of 30.00 EUR per cubic metre will be charged to the registrant.

4.6 If the German Design Council is commissioned to assemble projects supplied in a disassembled state, the German Design Council assumes liability in accordance with the following regulation. The registrant undertakes to provide appropriate installation instructions in German or English. The same applies to the disassembly of the project for return transport. Liability for loss of or damage to the projects is excluded, unless the German Design Council, its legal representatives or vicarious agents are charged with intent or gross negligence; the German Design Council's liability for negligent conduct is limited to a maximum value of 1,500.00 EUR, irrespective of the number of projects submitted by the same registrant.

4.7 The German Design Council recommends that the registrant take out all necessary insurance.

4.8 The German Design Council offers the applicant the possibility of submitting presentation charts via the Printing Service. The applicant can select a presentation chart within the framework of the online registration for the competition. After successful online release, the print-ready data (PDF) can be uploaded by 17 July 2019 at the latest. Print data submitted after the deadline will not be considered. The costs for the optionally bookable Printing Service (230€ per project plus VAT) will be invoiced in addition to the participation fees. The service includes printing and production of the presentation charts as well as delivery to the jury meeting. Participants will receive an invoice for these fees. A return shipment after the jury meeting is not included.

4.9 For applicants whose registered office is in China, the operational implementation (control of the application, handling of projects, invoicing and receipt of payment) for the German Design Council (for details see section 12 below) will be handled by its subsidiary, German Design Council (Shanghai) Co. Ltd, Shanghai, China.

5. PREVENTION OF ACCIDENTS

If projects are usable or are exhibited or demonstrated in an operative state, they must comply with the statutory and trade association regulations in Germany, in particular the accident prevention regulations and must be provided with the safeguards prescribed by law in Germany. The registrant is solely liable for any damage caused by installed objects. The registrant must also indemnify the German Design Council without limitation against any claims for damages by third parties.

Any damage that occurs during the jury session must be reported immediately within one week to the German Design Council. A description of the damage, along with pictorial documentation of the damage, must be included.

7. PUBLICATIONS

7.1 To document the competition, a publication of the winners is published in the catalogue as well as in the online gallery. If a project receives an award, it will be shown publicly in an exhibition conceived to run in parallel with the award ceremony. The registrant undertakes to make the project available again for the exhibition upon request. In this case, the same conditions as those listed under sections 4 and 5 apply to delivery and collection as well as to liability and insurance.

The German Design Council is responsible for the design of the exhibition and the placement of the projects within the exhibition. Due to the limited space available at the exhibition, only one copy per award-winning project can be integrated into the exhibition. A maximum of three projects can be shown for collections.

7.2 If the service fees/costs for winners (specified under point 6.3) are not paid within the payment period, no claim exists for entry in the catalogue. The graphic appearance of this website corresponds to the overall layout of the catalogue and is designed by the German Design Council according to the picture and text templates of the registrants. The registrant has no entitlement to influence the design and arrangement of the booked page.

7.3 The German Design Council is only liable to the extent specified in point 4.6 for intentional or grossly negligent design errors. In the event that the printing of the entry is partly or totally illegible or incomplete, the registrant has the right to a price reduction to the extent the purpose of the entry was impaired or to a flawless replacement entry. A refund of service fees/costs for winners is not possible.

7.4 Prior to publication, entrants are requested by the German Design Council to release the text and/or image material for this purpose. If confirmation of release is not received within the specified time period, the German Design Council will use the text and/or image material which the entrant has already provided in connection with registration in accordance with section 4 above. The German Design Council reserves the right to refuse entry orders on the basis of uniform, objectively justified principles due to their technical form or origin; the same applies if the content violates laws or official regulations or if publication is unreasonable for the German Design Council. If the registrant is responsible for the refusal, the costs incurred up to that point must be reimbursed to the German Design Council. Any claims for damages are excluded; in all other cases, the German Design Council is liable in accordance with the provisions of Point 4.6. A winner will receive one free copy of the catalog (per applicant), even with multiple distinctions.

In all other cases, the German Design Council is liable in accordance with the provisions under Point 4.6.

10. SEVERABILITY CLAUSE

Should individual provisions of these General Terms and Conditions be invalid or unenforceable or become invalid or unenforceable after conclusion of the contract, this shall not affect the validity of the remainder of the contract. The invalid or unenforceable provision shall be replaced by a valid and enforceable provision whose effects come closest to the economic objective pursued by the contracting parties with the invalid or unenforceable provision. The above provisions shall apply accordingly in the event that the contract proves to be incomplete.

11. ACKNOWLEDGEMENT, PLACE OF JURISDICTION
